1. Personnel Must Immediately Report Loss

All personnel must immediately report known or suspected loss to Western’s Internal Audit Department and University Police in accordance with the Reporting Loss of University Funds or Property procedures (PRO-U5315.25A). This ensures that:

- Losses are minimized,
- Investigations and audits are not hampered,
- Improper settlements are not made with employees,
- Incorrect personnel actions are not taken,
- Employees are protected from false accusations,
- Bond and insurance claims are not jeopardized, and
- Compliance with state laws and regulations is accomplished.

2. Personnel Protect Pertinent Records From Destruction

Personnel will protect all pertinent records related to the loss from destruction. All original records related to the loss should be secured in a safe place until an investigation or audit has been completed.

3. Personnel Will Not Attempt to Correct the Loss

Personnel will not attempt to correct the loss without first reporting to the authorities identified in the reporting procedures. State law requires written approval of the Assistant Attorney General and State Auditors Office (SAO) before the University can make any restitution agreement, compromise, or settlement of claims that are related to losses that are required to be reported to the SAO.
